Please check with your local health agency or your employer to verify your local regulations and find out the number of years that your jurisdiction or your employer will accept your certification.

Verification of Certification

If you agree to the terms of the examination, as a Certified Food Safety HACCP Manager, National Registry will verify your certificate status upon request by Test Administrator, employers, government agencies which includes the Department of Veterans’ Affairs and other interested people.
National Registry has adopted a Certified Food Safety HACCP Manager Disciplinary Policy. A copy of this code of conduct is listed in this Candidate Information Bulletin. In addition to passing National Registry’s examination, candidates must adhere to the requirements contained in this Disciplinary Policy in order to become and remain a Certified Food Safety HACCP Manager. To be eligible for a certificate, an individual must continuously comply with all of National Registry’s standards, policies, and procedures. Actions that constitute a violation of the Certified Food Safety HACCP Manager Disciplinary Policy include, but are not limited to: cheating on an examination, providing false information, misrepresenting certificate status, misusing property of National Registry, and being subject to any regulatory, criminal, or civil action related to public health and/or food safety.

Persons concerned about a possible violation of the Disciplinary Policy are asked to inform National Registry in writing. Alleged violations are first referred to the Chief Operating Officer and then to an Appeals Panel if review is warranted. If good cause is found to further pursue the alleged violation, a hearing will be held before the Appeals Panel. The individual will have the opportunity to present a defense. The Appeals Panel will determine the appropriate sanctions to be imposed, if any; National Registry may deny, revoke, or otherwise act upon an individual’s certification. The individual may appeal an unfavorable decision; otherwise, the Appeals Panel decision will be final. If eligibility or certification is denied or revoked, an individual cannot be reconsidered for a period of at least three years. In the event that an alleged violation constitutes an imminent threat to the public, this procedure may be accelerated.
Any individual may file a complaint against an individual holding the CFSHM Credential. The following procedures describe the steps to be taken when complaints are presented. By publishing this procedure, National Registry does not expect, invite, solicit, or encourage complaints. The use of these procedures is for the sole purpose of protecting the reputation of the certification program and assuring a fair investigation of complaints. All complaints, therefore, must stipulate an alleged violation of the CFSHM Code of Conduct. Only complaints that follow the published procedures of National Registry will be considered.

Filing a Complaint:

- Complaints will be accepted only from those who claim to be harmed by the alleged behavior.
- All complaints must be in writing and signed by the complainant(s), and only information submitted in writing and signed will be considered.
- Complaints and supporting evidence must show a violation of the CFSHM Code of Conduct.
- At a minimum, the complaint should specify the respondent, the alleged inappropriate behavior referencing the specific section of the Code of Conduct allegedly violated, the standing of the complainant, and any collaborating evidence.

All charges of violations of the Code shall be addressed to the Compliance Department, National Registry, 7680 Universal Blvd, Suite 550, Orlando, Florida 32819. Complaints shall then be forwarded to the Compliance Director of National Registry. Charges must be made in writing and must include the following information:

- Name of the accused certificants and his or her address, if known
- Name of the accuser, address, telephone, and email contact information
- Description of the allegations and any documentary evidence relating to the alleged violation
- List of Codes allegedly violated
- Signature of the complainant
