Manage your assets

The Pearson VUE Digital Learning Asset Management (DLAM) system, is your single source for purchasing and managing certification and learning products.

The DLAM system's inventory-tracking features are designed specifically for those responsible for training federal government employees, contractors, and US Service members. This means that instructors and training leads can purchase materials now and manage their use in the future — maximizing the value of every dollar spent:

- Assign, deliver and track usage of certification vouchers and eLearning products using one integrated system
- Forecast and manage inventory in real time
- Reallocate exam vouchers and learning products to reduce waste caused by voucher expiration and/or nonuse
- Assign or revoke exam vouchers based on candidate preparedness

“Many of my students have one shot to pass an exam, therefore I only trust MeasureUp to let me know when my students are ready to test. MeasureUp provides excellent administrative tools that allow me to identify my student's strengths and weaknesses and track progress before issuing exam vouchers. In six years, I have certified over 95% of all students who have met our standard for MeasureUp activity.”
